Worship Demands Silence

"But the Lord is in His holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before Him."—Habakkuk 2:20

The prophet Habakkuk probably didn't mean to use "silence" with a literal connotation, but it is certainly applicable as such in modern worship services. Worship of Almighty God demands a definite amount of silence.

Wartburg college students have daily worship services at their evening chapel, yet the disturbances often noticed at such services provide more of a classroom atmosphere than one of quiet reverence. Contrary to some opinions, these daily chapel services are as much a part of student worship as are Sunday services.

It is incongruous to think of chapel as merely another meeting, for it is actually a divine meeting where the students join in prayer, praise and thanksgiving. Such a meeting is greatly enhanced by an acceptable attitude. Silence is probably only one of the several requisites of worship, but it is by far the most important external attitude.

Quietness in chapel allows oneself and others to concentrate more readily upon the purposes of a meeting with God. And it certainly presents a more courteous appearance when one appears before his Father.

Correct worship manners are necessary, for they greatly influence one's relationship with his God. Christian worship services have room for only one subject—Christ. Other subjects can wait.

Newspapers Need Advertising

Some Wartburg students have expressed their disapproval of what they term the great amount of advertising appearing in the TRUMPET. Because the staff of this newspaper desires to please its readers, some explanation is due concerning advertising policies.

Advertising provides the greatest share of revenue for the TRUMPET, as well as for any newspaper. If this were not true, students would have to pay a subscription fee of about $3 in place of the $1.25 which they now pay. This would directly oppose the journalistic principle of providing news as cheaply as possible to the reader.

Self-support is of prime importance to the TRUMPET. The college gives it absolutely no financial aid, providing it only with free office space and the services of an adviser. This is only right in view of the truth that a really good newspaper can always support itself by its advertising and subscription revenue.

Priding itself on its system of advertising, the TRUMPET would like to use a few statistics to explain its stand. This newspaper operates on what is called a 35-65 business policy. That means that no more than 35 per cent of the space in the paper is occupied by advertising. Almost reversed is the proportion used by most daily newspapers; they operate on a 60-40 basis, in other words, with 60 per cent advertising.

Advertising percentages are always higher in commercial newspapers than they are in school newspapers; yet, even most college papers on the TRUMPET'S exchange list contain more advertising than does the TRUMPET. They follow the same rule that in order to build a newspaper and add to its physical equipment, a certain margin, though small, is absolutely essential.

Although a newspaper's prime purpose is found in the presentation of news, only that publication that can support itself is deserving of the title "newspaper." The TRUMPET constantly strives to live up to this label.

Grossmannites Begin Outfly With Stampede

Fall Outfly on Sept. 24 was begun by the populace of Grossmann hall, which, like a stampeding herd of cattle pursued by gunfling Texans, descended upon the sleeping campus. Bellowing "Outfly" and exploding firecrackers, the Grossmannites struck terror to the frosh heart.

Systematically proceeding to the other dormitories, they began their crusade of rousting the students. Freshmen, ably supervised by upperclassmen, made such a clamor inside and outside the buildings that sleep was impossible.

Following the breakfast and calisthenics period, students, hand in hand, undertook the traditional "snake-dance," which wove its way over, under, through and between obstacles on Waverly's main intersection, where a concert of school songs and yells ensued to the business district.

Remainder of the day was spent on a scenic bank of the Cedar river. Lunch was served during a drizzle — football, baseball and horseshoes were played in the heavy dew — the volleyball bounced to and fro under protecting trees, and bingo survived by a warm bonfire. No, the weather this time was definitely not with the students of Wartburg.

Getting Acquainted

Meet Prexy Ted

Ignoring the "No Trespassing" sign hung over a "103" on a door in Grossmann hall and passing the threshold of the room, the trespasser may behold one known as Ted Guetzlaff. He it is who is serving this year as president of the student body.

Ted was engaged in sitting on a chair in front of his Greek book, blowing bubbles. Not being an ordinary fellow, Ted was blowing bubbles out of some new plastic. He has been promoted from soap bubble blowing. This particular skill was no doubt acquired during his 13-month term in the navy, where he worked with other such complicated gadgets as radar and radio.

Here For Last Year.

Ted, the student, however, has a few more important things on his mind. He is here for his last year at Wartburg, majoring in Greek. Way back in June of 1944, he started his career as a Knight. After three semesters of work, he took a leave of absence and vacationed under the guidance of Uncle Sam. A year ago he came back to finish his pre-theological course here.

Ted, the man of leisure, centers most of his interests in sports, especially basketball and tennis. Three hours of each week he spends as first chair clarinetist in the band.

As a working man, he has been promoted from high school soda jerk to sports writer for the public relations department and member of the dining hall staff.

Believes In Smiles.

Ted, the personality, believes there is nothing better than a smile and a first-name greeting. He is the chief campus promoter for the maintenance of the friendly college family spirit.

Serving as chief-of-staff this year is the finale to his list of presidential offices, which includes presidency of the band and of his junior class. He claims to be the only Wartburg student past or present who has served on the dormitory council during his entire college life.

In short, Ted is "free, white and 20."

Hiltner Writes Two Workbooks For Youngsters

"Knowing Our Bible" by Dr. John Hiltner. Two volumes, 47 pp. each. Minneapolis, Augsburg, 1947. 30 cents each. (Teacher's Manual, 80 pp., Columbus, Wartburg, 1946. 50 cents) Reviewed by Omar Bonderud.

Fulfilling a definite need in the Christian education of young people are two short study books by Dr. John Hiltner, professor of religion and philosophy at Wartburg.

Published as part of the Weekday Church School Series under the auspices of the American Lutheran conference, these workbooks contain outlines and study plans of the Old and New Testaments. They will be used in the eighth and ninth grades of many schools.

Dr. Hiltner's evident purpose in writing these books was to present a great story from Genesis to Revelation. It gives a certain coherence to the great number of Bible stories with which the pupils have come in contact.

Beginning with a general introduction to the Bible, the author shows how the Bible has come down through the ages. After acquainting his readers with the Bible lands and people, he outlines the complete history of the Chosen People, their beginnings, nation, heros, kings, travels, songs and prophets.

The four Gospels of the New Testament are presented as the Gospels of the Kingdom of power, for all mankind and of the Son of God. The author reveals the story of the Church as recorded in Acts and in the epistles.

Although written for junior high school students, "Knowing Our Bible" is well-suited to the needs of college students, especially freshmen, who feel that their religious education has been neglected. It is now available in the college library.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

After having established an INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE BUREAU, I—on behalf of members on my waiting list—take leave to apply to you. May I request you to put me in touch with readers of your papers interested in friendly correspondence?

Having been secluded from the outside world these long years, and yearning for a real democratic enlightenment and a personal contact from man to man across the borders, my members would only too gladly welcome and answer letters from abroad. Most of my members (among them scientists, students, experts, businessmen and other well-educated ladies and gentlemen, and hobbyists, housewives and even young boys and girls) have a fairly good knowledge of English, but would also be pleased to write in German, if desired. I am sure my members will try and give their pen-friends every satisfaction.

Individuals and groups of persons may communicate with me direct, stating their particulars and interests. All letters will be attended to, and application forms lined up. If possible, two or three reply coupons should be enclosed to cover expenses, and also to save time an introductory letter to future pen-friends over here will be appreciated.

Pen-friendships are a step towards the creation of that international friendship and goodwill that is so essential to understanding and peace, don't you think so?

Yours hopefully,
(Miss) Anna-Maria Braun, International Correspondence Bureau (13b) Munchen 15, Lindwurmstrasse 128/A, Germany-Bavaria-US Zone.

Knights, Tigers End With 7-7

By Adam Meldinger

Hampered by light rain, the Wartburg Knights and the Iowa Wesleyan Tigers from Mt. Pleasant battled to a 7-7 tie last night at Waverly's municipal field in a game studded with sparkling and brilliant plays.

Wartburg's team played a much better game than it did a week ago at Carthage. The line, weighing by about ten pounds a man, held up quite well when it was under pressure, and the backfield proved that it has plenty of drive when it is needed.

Big guns in the Wesleyan backfield were Jerry Lange and Dick Bill with their powerful smashes through the line.

Tied At Half-Time.

The two teams fought to a 0-0 tie in the first half, the Knights threatening only in the second quarter when they drove to the Wesleyan 12-yard line. Hughes, Michaelson and Fallon brought the ball down from their own 34. A 15-yard holding penalty put the ball back on the Tigers' 37. Bauhs angled for the corner and the ball went out on the 20. The Tigers took over, but time ran out with the ball on the Wartburg 35-yard line after Lange had finished a 30-yard run.

Knights scored their touchdown early in the third quarter. Fallon, Michaelson and Hughes alternated in carrying the ball from their own 37 to the Wesleyan 33 before Bauhs was forced to punt. Wesleyan returned the kick and the Knights took over again.

Wartburg bulled its way through the line inch sheer-over, gaining little by little, moving the ball to the Tigers' 12. Bill Hughes skirted around the right end from here and went over for a touchdown. Walt Block converted.

Tigers Drive Back.

The Tigers immediately started to drive right back, not stopping until they had moved to the Wartburg 21, where they lost the ball on downs. Bauhs got off a 40-yard punt, and the Tigers roared back to score two plays later.

Kenny Hart flipped a lateral to Lange on the Knights' 40, and Lange raced the rest of the way for the Tigers' lone counter. Lange ran the extra point when he was unable to kick because of a bad pass from center.

Knights knocked at the gates again, getting down to the Wesleyan 3-yard line, but a penalty and a fumble kept them from further scoring.

Carthage Redmen Avenge Loss By Trouncing Wartburgers 20-6

By Adam Meldinger

Carthage college Redmen avenged a last year's 32-7 loss to Wartburg by trouncing the Knights 20-6 at Carthage, Ill., last Saturday.

Wartburg, with many new and inexperienced men in the lineup, appeared a bit nervous and unsure. The injury-ridden Knights had to do without the services of first-string tackle Don Bergman and Quarterback Elgin Allen, who did not make the trip.

Bill Hughes, who had been out with a back injury, saw more action than was expected. Big Bill was the sparkplug in Wartburg's drive for its only touchdown. He gained yardage every time he carried the ball. Hughes also made a beautiful flying body block crashing Junior Dierks to return a punt from the 10 to the 35-yard line.

First quarter opened with Carthage's quarterback, Erwin Cox, and its flashy triple threat halfback, Aaron Gurunian, bringing the ball from their own 25 to Wartburg's 17-yard line. There they were stopped momentarily. But fullback Dick Zima cracked through the Wartburg line three times for a Carthage score. An attempted pass for the extra point was batted down.

In the second quarter, the Knights began their march down the field. Penetrating to the Carthage four-yard line, they were stopped cold. Carthage took over and set the stage for its second touchdown. Gurunian threw a 40-yard pass to Merle Richmond, who carried the ball to the 25 before he was downed.

A double lateral to Gurunian netted eight more yards. The speedy back cracked through the line again for a first down, and four plays later, Zima smashed over for his and Carthage's second touchdown of the game. Gurunian bulled his way for the extra point. Score at half-time was Carthage 13, Wartburg 0.

Wartburg scored its lone touchdown 10 plays after the second half got under way. Dick Nutter carried the ball for seven yards; Bill Hughes carried it twice for 14 more. Don Fallon and Nutter advanced the ball for another first down. A pass to Waldo Platte put the ball on the 10-yard line. Nutter fought his way to the one, and Hughes hit pay dirt on a line buck. Hughes failed to get the extra point on a running play.

Carthage took the kick-off and began to move down the field for its final score. Gurunian caught a pass on the 50 and as he was being tackled, lateraled to Bradley, who carried it to Wartburg's 42. Dick Goetz and Gurunian teamed up to gain another first down. Cox then skirted his left end and carried the ball for 25 yards and a touchdown. Gurunian cracked over the line for the extra counter.

Knights met a fast and flashy team last week at Carthage. The victory came as a complete surprise to fans. Wartburg's line opened continually as the Redmen of Carthage drove through. Coach Nelson will, no doubt, make many changes in the line before Wartburg meets the boys from Wisconsin Tech. The services of Elg Allen and Don Bergman were definitely missed. Although Bill Hughes sparked the team, he was used sparingly throughout the game because of his recent recovery from injuries. Platte and Sauerbry played a good game at the ends, catching several passes for long gains.

For several plays in the latter part of the game Platte and Sauerbry shifted to the tackle position, and Mark Klatt and Bloehm were at the end spots. This combination clicked; so in all probability it will be used in future games. Don Fallon, the other backfield letterman, turned in his usual good game, both on defense and offense. Like last year's Wartburg victory over Carthage, this year's defeat will not determine the rest of the season for the Knights.

Little information about the Wisconsin Tech players is available up to this time; however, when they come to Waverly on Oct. 11, they will have played only one game. At that time the Knights will have the experience of two games, and will have improved through rough and long practice sessions.

It is also hoped that by that time the men who have been out with injuries will be back with the squad. When Wartburg meets the Tech miners, it will be a Wartburg victory. At this writing, however, it is difficult to predict the margin of victory.

The week-end of Sept. 27 saw several conference games. The outstanding outcome was the 27 to 0 victory of Loras over Luther. This victory shows the strength of Loras, and puts the Norsemen out of the early running for the conference championship.

Upper Iowa, last year's co-champion, was victorious in its battle with the Beavers from Buena Vista. The Peacocks' 20 to 0 victory indicates that they will be a team to beat, as well as a team that takes little time to capitalize on the mistakes of opponents. Other teams in the conference, like the Knights, played non-conference games. These non-conference games have been the downfall for Iowa conference teams, for they have been on the short end of the score in the majority of cases.

Students Ring Wedding Bells

Wedding bells rang for many Wartburg students this summer.

An early summer wedding was that of Avis Guthart, Charles City, to Emil Stubenvoll of Clintonville, Wis. They were married at Charles City by the Rev. Emil Stubenvoll, Sr., father of the groom. Mrs. Stubenvoll was a student at Wartburg last year, where Mr. Stubenvoll is now a junior.

Norma Jane Gerbers, Palmer, and Herbert Heist, Waverly, were married Aug. 7 at Burlington, Wis. Mr. Heist has entered his junior year at Wartburg and plans to continue in the field of medicine.

Leslie Stanek of Montgomery, Minn., claimed as his bride this summer Miss Janiece Rutt, also of Montgomery, Minn. Mr. Stanek is a senior at Wartburg.

Lorna Karsten of Pierson and Albert Wissink, Dunkerton, were married Aug. 10 at Correctionville. Mrs. Wissink, a student last year at Wartburg, is the secretary to the development director. Mr. Wissink is a sophomore at Wartburg.

Donna Rose Gundacker, a graduate of Wartburg college this summer, became the bride of Keith Koch of Waverly at the Lutheran church in Strawberry Point, the home of the bride. Mrs. Koch is now teaching in the elementary school in Janesville. Mr. Koch is a junior at Wartburg college.

Hot Coals

With upperclassmen dampening freshmen's hopes of interdating, at least according to the story of the midnight-pool-cleaner Bill (Cosmopolitan) Vernon and about fifteen upperclassmen, these same upperclassmen are carrying on the Wartburg family spirit in traditional style.

De Young freshmen from Los Angeles take top honors as the most successful brother-sister combination on the campus. John has been seen with Pat Sieglaff at least twice a day, and Barbara is still busy helping Harold Schmidt get ready for the next LSA meeting.

Erwin Hiltner and Judy Vogel, the one couple which outfly didn't wash up, remain intact, according to latest reports. David Heldtke capitalized on "I room in the same dormitory as your brother" one night and since then has been doing well on his own with Doris Herrboldt.

But freshman boys have been keeping their eyes open and the 585 number busy, too. Dick Joel and Jimmy Ullom, especially, have kept track of Lois Volkmann and Adeline Rudolph.

Some upperclassmen have just this fall discovered that possibilities are to be found in the returning veterans of student life. Ted Guetzlaff shot for the stars but fell a little short and found a girl on the fourth floor, Carol Loots. Ken Priebe couldn't forget the water on that ocean trip this summer so he picked on a girl who grew up under the protection of the Father of Waters, Eunice Butlers.

Position of "Miss Dishwasher of the Week" goes to Marjorie Walker.

Faculty Announces Infant Additions

Faculty members announced additions to the Wartburg family in their own homes this summer.

A son, Stephen Christopher, was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pries, June 3. Mrs. Pries is the former Mis. June Stange of Muscatine, former assistant in the treasurer's office here. Mr. Pries is the business manager at Wartburg.

Two members of the Wartburg faculty announce the birth of daughters on the same day, Aug. 10. The Rev. and Mrs. Walter G. Tillmanns named their daughter Ruth Marie. The Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Grunke named their daughter Carol Louise. The Rev. Mr. Tillmanns is the head of the department of modern languages at Wartburg college. The Rev. Mr. Grunke is the dean of students here.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Brewster announce the birth of a son, David Edward, on Sept. 19. Mr. Brewster is the speech director at Wartburg.
